

Khuran

ANTI ACNE GEL

Introduction

Acne is a condition of the skin that typically attacks during puberty. There are different kinds of acne and many treatments are being applied worldwide. Treating acne at different stages requires extreme caution in order to prevent future sequels (marks, scars, etc.)

Acne may be the consequence of hormonal imbalance (which is often the cause during puberty). It is also caused by infections or poor hygiene habits. In adults, acne may be caused by hormonal imbalance, tension, stress, fat-rich diets, birth control pills, etc. There are many treatments including antibiotics, a medication that often dilates pores in order to provide glands with a better drainage. Khuran is a treatment that controls, cures and prevents Acne for what it is -the excess of secretion from sebaceous glands. These are the glands producing grease, that special oil that lubricates hair and skin.

When grease is produced in excess, pores get plugged with dead cells and that produces different kinds of acne. Dermabiol Institute of Kuhra Vital designed Khuran, a product that controls the skin prone to acne and contributes to restore the PH balance, thanks to the action of essential oligoelements.

Composition

Khuran Phase 1

Water, chlorohexidine, digluconate, oligoelements hydroxienthylcellulose, copper, PCA, zinc, PCA. Allium sativum (garlic extract). Chlorohexidine is a disinfectant and bactericide. Copper and Zinc are minerals with remarkable astringent properties, and keratoplastic and keratinizing action. Allium sativum includes sulphurized essential oil acting as bactericide and bacteriostatic.

Khuran Phase 2

Water, cocamidopropyl, betain, aloe barbadensis, arnica extract, magnesium, aluminum silicate, titanium dioxide, copper PCA, Zinc-PCA tridosam.

How it acts

Khuran is a hydrosoluble gel that works through liposomes that penetrate lower skin layers. Khuran works from the deepest skin layers up to the superficial ones. Khuran provides the skin with a high content of minerals and oligoelements that fight bacteria, and strong agents to propagate them.

The antibacterial power of Khuran helps to control the acneical infection as well as the excess of grease produced by comedogenic skins. By simply restoring the skin, Khuran balances, controls and absorbs the excesses of grease and prevents disorders of diverse causes that affect this type of skin.

Indications

Use Khuran for treating skins affected with acne and those excessively greasy. Khuran will control grease, seborheical and acneical skins. This product will serve efficiently as adjuvant treatment. Use it alone or combined with other treatments, according to your Physician. Khuran is especially indicated for controlling Acne. Each vial is designed for one or more applications, according to the amount used. Kuhra Vital guarantees that the components of this product are harmless and compatible with all kinds of skin, included hypoallergenic skin.

How to use Khuran

Khuran Phase 1

The most active Khuran phase. Use only in daytime hours. Apply enough drops and a soft massage until completely absorbed. Do not remove the product. Avoid exercising after the treatment!

Khuran Phase 2

Apply morning and night and leave it for 15 minutes. Thoroughly remove with abundant water.

Night

Remove your make-up completely (do not use cleaning creams or milks with mineral oils during this treatment). Apply Khuran and wait for 15 minutes before removing with water. Rest for the next hours.

You may use an anti-aging treatment, e.g. Phyll Topic, Facial Dermagique, Kuracell or another recommended one.

Day

Thoroughly wash the treated areas with abundant water. Apply Khuran Phase 2 again and wait for 15 minutes before removing the product with abundant water. Continue the treatment with Khuran Phase 1 for the rest of the day.

For better penetration of the active principles of Kuhran, avoid excessive make-up during this treatment.

Contraindications

No adverse reactions observed.
