

Thetaxa

L - BREAST ENHANCER

Introduction

Science provides us every day with growing and interesting information about our skin –skin components, how it works, what it needs and how we should be taking care of it. Kuhra Vital, a line of products for Dermatologists and Cosmetic Medicine professionals, is formulated with the most advanced organic components of animal and vegetable origin, which fight skin disorders in different ways. Through oligoelements, vitamins, proteins and different active compounds, carefully selected on a one-by-one basis, Kuhra products provide an extraordinary skin natural treatment and repair system.

Thetaxa-L is a gel created to give volume to the bust.

Thetaxa-L is a treatment designed by Dermabiol Institute of Kuhra Vital and based on exhaustive research, tests and clinical essays performed in Europe. Thetaxa-L will work your breast in a natural, progressive way, while nourishing it and making it firmer. Sponge-type cells will absorb the nutrients and the special enzymes included will activate a process that will finally induce the synthesis of collagen, elastin, hyaluronates, etc. By reaching the deepest layers of the treated area, Thetaxa-L gives the bust a young look, while providing firmness and an increased size after a few days.

Composition

Each 30 ml. of Thetaxa-L include water, Peg-6 stearate, glycol stearate, Peg-32 stearate, glycoproteins, phospholipids, thymus extract, sphingolipids, (Equisetum Arvense), hydrocotyl extract, Heliantus Annus, sodium hyaluronate, tocopheryl acetate, diazolidinil urea, fragrance, dermatensors, African Kigelia and Saponaria Quillaja extracts, oligoproteins and vitamins.

How it works

Glycoproteins, phospholipids and sphingolipids will work on the thin connective tissue and extra-cellular liquids, especially those from the cells of the lobe. The components of this product will work on the molecules involved in increasing the size of the bust. Additionally they will activate and favor the regeneration of this thin tissue, which in turn favors a firmer bust. The lyposomized thymus helps to oxygenate cells in a long-lasting and progressive fashion. Enzymes anti-elastinase will block or neutralize the elastinase, which is responsible for the flaccidity of the thin tissue and the catalysis of proteins that reduce the tissue.

“Horsetail” (Equisetum Arvense), and hydrocotyl (Asiatic Centella) extracts will work as vehicles for helping the thin tissue to regenerate. A solution of soy phytoestrol and fatty acid triglycerids C10-18 will be easily absorbed thanks to a close resemblance with the human body, thus favoring cellular growth through the cellular division or mitosis.

Indications

Use for developing firmness and size. Also indicated for women who wish to counteract the natural effects of gravity (dropped and aging breasts). Kuhra Vital guarantees that the components of Thetaxa-L components are harmless to all type of skins, as well as harmless and hypoallergenic.

Administration

Apply daily in the morning and/or at night. Thoroughly clean the area to be treated. When applying the product, work with a circular movement to the right of the bust and then to the neck and shoulders. Administer daily for 30 days, then wait for 10 days and repeat the cycle. Once the ideal size is achieved (1,5 to 2 inches), apply every second day. You may wait two weeks before continuing for another month and so on. The most remarkable results will be observed five days after the first administration.

For External Use Only. This product should be enough for three months (used daily for the first treatment) and then every three days twice a week.

Warning

If you stop using the product for three weeks, your bust will return to its previous size and form. You may rest up to two weeks after reaching your goal.

Contraindications

No harmful effect has been reported (not even in sensitive skins). Thetaxa-L does not include hormones or estrogen. This is a fast-absorption product that does not leave oily residues.

Presentation

Thetaxa-L comes in two (2) dispenser-type bottles, 30 ml each. Use one (1) in the morning and one at night, according to the directions of the label. This product comes in an expanded polyesterene box designed for protecting the contents against temperature variations. Thetaxa-L is manufactured under strict quality controls and several dermatological clinical tests according to the international regulations governing the matter.